My Dear Friend.-

I thought you might care to see the enclosed specimen of your penmanship. It is one of your efforts while you were a student in the little school house when I taught. I taught there during the winter of 1879-80 and a part of the next winter. I also have an autograph album which you boys gave me for a Christmas present. In it you have an eagle similar to this one on the first page in your hand, and done in red ink is this inscription:-

"Presented by
C. P. Ganer.
A. A. Pealer,
J. W. Edgar
F. C. McMichael
L. A Stoker
J. S. Stoker
Lloyd Ganer."

I wish I could see all those per sons once again, I often wonder what became of them. How the years go by! How many changes they bring.

We are well and busy. I trust you keep well. I have no doubt you, too, are busy. When you get near this place be sure to stop in and see us.

Most cordially yours,

J. Eugene Dietterich.

Dear Mr. Bromfield,-
Here I am for a few days with Mrs. Rogers & leave tomorrow for New York City, I came here from Columbus O. where I authorized Zaner & Bloser to publish the Madarasz Book, as my beloved told me, he had given some secrets about his methods of teaching penmanship to his pupils, not to be divulged during his lifetime, I hope you will help me by explaining to Messrs Zaner & Bloser what they were, you were his last pupil & doubtless ~~xxxxx~~ remember exactly what they were.

I hope you & your dear wife are enjoying good health & happiness & that I may have the pleasure of meeting you both sometime,

The writing on this sheet was executed by Mr. C. E. Doner who is now an assistant in the Zanerian. Mr. Doner is not only the finest penman of his age in the world, but many consider him the best regardless of age. Remit 50 cents for a page of his best work and be convinced.

DONER

It should be remembered that Mr. Doner's work is the direct result of Zanerian methods. He was thoroughly drilled in the Hand, Hinge, and Arm movements and in no others. No other than the Zanerian System of Penmanship would produce such results. If you wish to become one of the finest penmen and best teachers of penmanship attend the Zanerian Art College, Columbus, Ohio.

Robespierre — his memory is an enigma of which history trembles to pronounce the solution, fearing to do him an injustice if she brand it as a crime, or to create horror if she should term it a virtue.

This man was, and must ever remain, shadowy and undefined.

Shakespeare

What manner of man was he? His life, the embodiment of mystery the orthography of his name even in doubt. Poet and philosopher wielder of a magic pen master of every scale of human passion from the pure and lofty thoughts of a demigod to the anguished mutterings and cries of despair of a lost soul his every character, a human document his delineations, the genuine progeny of world-wide humanity.

Shakespeare's immortality rests upon the fact that his scenes are occupied only by men who act and speak as the reader that he should himself have spoken or acted on the same occasion

Washington — "four-square to all the winds," grave, thoughtful, proof against the wiles of British strategy and the poisoned darts of false friends; clear-seeing over the heads of his fellow-countrymen — the most colossal world-figure of his time.

Rome perched Nero upon the greatest throne on earth, and so set up a poor madman's name for countless centuries as the synonym of savage cruelty.

.....THE RIVER.....

And silver white the river gleams,
As if Diana in her dreams,
Had dropt her silver bow,
Upon the meadows low.

Views at thy hand,
No worthy action done.

The melancholy days are come
the saddest of the year
Of wailing winds, and naked woods,
and meadows brown and sere
Heaped in the hollows of the grove,
the autumn leaves lie dead;
They rustle to the eddying gust,
and to the rabbits tread
The robin and the wren are flown,
and from the shrubs the jay,
And from the woodtop calls the crow
through all the gloomy day." —BRYANT.

Mr. E. A. Lupfer,

Dear Sir;

In this you have a specimen of my roundhand, or engrossers script.

Hoping that it will please you, I remain,

Yours truly,

Willis A. Baird.

The pen the mind's material power,
Moves millions by its will,
For, from its tip flows many a shower
Of thought drops sure to thrill.

ZANER

On each and every page of white,
In lines both smooth and graceful,
The pen may leave, while in its flight,
Thoughts of the truly grateful.

ZANER

'Tis not by tongue alone we hear
The workings of the inner mind,
But through the pen so still, so clear
The thoughts and images we find.

ZANER

Pen not thy thoughts in inks' dark lines
When passion owns thy reason,
But write thou that which ne'er maligns
True loyalty, not treason.
